

INTERIOR DESIGN[®]

AUGUST 2020

the shape of things

Wood Marsh Architecture

site Toorak, Australia.

standout With a nod to the late artists Christo and Jeanne-Claude's curtainlike Running Fence installation, the sculptural house is comprised of a sinuous concrete facade and a series of austere zinc-topped arcs, all counteracted with abundant landscaping.

photography John Gollings. ➔

"Challenging standard notions of domesticity, the abstract form of the building curves around the sloping site"

